

0 comments

Weekend winter storm: Wagner College cancels Saturday classes

The falling snow on Sutter Oval, in front of Wagner College's Main Hall on its Grymes Hill campus created an idyllic picture-postcard scene in this photo from 2012. Fast forward to 2016: Wagner announced it is cancelling its Saturday classes and some activities, in anticipation of the weekend's blizzard predictions. (Staten Island Advance/Hilton Flores)

By Diane C. Lore | lore@siadvance.com
Follow on Twitter
on January 21, 2016 at 3:37 PM

Print
Email

STATEN ISLAND, N.Y. -- With a weekend winter storm forecast calling for a potential blizzard on Staten Island, Wagner College announced Thursday it is cancelling all Saturday classes, and some of its other activities, on its Grymes Hill campus.

Also cancelled are Saturday's Tottenville High School's pre-college program, a swimming and diving meet with LIU Post at 1 p.m., and an Admissions Office overview program.

Basketball games set for Saturday afternoon in the Spiro Sports Center against Sacred Heart, however, will proceed as scheduled. The women will play at 1 p.m., and the men at 4 p.m.

More details on Wagner College's plans for operating during the storm are outlined on the college's website, at wagner.edu.

STATEN ISLAND SNOW COVERAGE

'Extremely dangerous travel' alert for weekend storm

Weekend storm: 7-12 inches of snow, dangerous flooding

Weekend snow storm: Life-threatening flooding possible

Weekend Winter Storm: How much flooding will Staten Island see?

Snow emergency help needed: How to register for Sanitation temp jobs

AUTO LOANS
Bankruptcy? Divorce? Liens? Debt? No Credit? NO PROBLEM.
100% APPROVAL
IS OUR GOAL!
ANY CAR • ANY YEAR • ANY MODEL
GET APPROVED NOW!
Honda of Staten Island

MORE S.I. NEWS

Sign up for free SILive.com newsletters

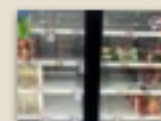

Must-see Staten Island Advance videos

Obituaries from the Advance

MOST READ

National Weather Service issues blizzard watch for weekend winter storm

Should you start collecting Social Security benefits at age 62?

Staten Island man who was found on fire dies

Weekend snow storm: Life-threatening flooding possible

Report: Bocelli restaurant site of crime family Christmas party

ACTIVE DISCUSSIONS

- Report: Bocelli restaurant site of crime family Christmas party (30 comments)

11
shares