

GRYMES HILL RESIDENTS SEEK A SAFE HOWARD AVENUE

I have been living in Grymes Hill for six years and I can say that on Howard Avenue, particularly the stretch between St. John's University and Clove Road, is far from safe.

We lack adequate crosswalks, needed stop signs, and there are no traffic calming devices throughout this long stretch of road.

If Howard Avenue were safe, then we would not have had the many accidents we witnessed over the last few years, we would not have seen cyclists get hurt, and worst of all, killed.

I hope the city Department of Transportation can help our Grymes Hill community by providing the necessary safety measures to the road.

We need a Howard Avenue that is safe for all the pedestrians, cyclists and other non-speeding drivers. We live on a street with three educational institutions, not an expressway.
