This past year, my last as Wagner’s president, has been a joyful time of celebration.

I cannot thank you enough, faithful supporters of Wagner College, for your partnership in the vision and mission of this special place.

Without your help, Wagner College would not be thriving today, ready for the next phase of leadership and growth that I am confident will ensue under incoming President Joel W. Martin.

I would like to name a few concrete ways in which your support has proved vital to Wagner’s growth and success.

During my tenure as president, the College endowment has increased from $4 million to $94 million. The endowment provides Wagner with a stable bedrock of funding that will grow from generation to generation.

Endowment funds and annual gifts have allowed us to provide approximately $40 million annually for students’ financial need and merit scholarships, helping us recruit and work with outstanding young people who become outstanding new alumni.

Your generosity has allowed us to spend more than $60 million on renovations and upgrades to our campus facilities, including sprinkler systems, Harborview Hall’s HVAC system, library upgrades (most visibly, the Class of 1959 Learning Commons), and a major restoration of Main Hall.

With your support, we were able to construct Foundation Hall, Wagner’s first new residential building in 40 years.

I hope reading this annual report makes you feel pride in all we have accomplished together, and inspires you to renew your commitment to this beautiful hilltop home that we have shared.

Just like the graduates we send out into the world each year at commencement, I will be leaving Grymes Hill, but the Hill will never leave my heart.

RICHARD GUARASCI
PRESIDENT
One of the Best

Wagner was named one of America’s best colleges in the Princeton Review’s 2019 college guidebook, The Best 384 Colleges. Only about 15 percent of America’s 2,500 four-year colleges are profiled in this book.

ANNIVERSARIES

Years on Grymes Hill

Wagner moved from its original home in Rochester, New York, to Staten Island in 1918.

50

Years of Wagner College Theatre

The seeds of Wagner’s now top-ranked theater program were planted in 1968.

20

Years of the Wagner Plan for the Practical Liberal Arts

The Wagner faculty and then-Provost Richard Guarasci created this innovative curriculum, launched in 1998.

The Wagner community and the Port Richmond Partnership celebrated the College’s landmark anniversaries and the leadership of Richard and Carin Guarasci at the Centennial Gala, held at Wagner on October 6, 2018.
PRESIDENTIAL TRANSITION

In January 2018, President Guarasci announced that he planned to retire in June 2019, and a search was started for the 19th president of Wagner College. In December 2018, the search committee and the Wagner trustees announced the successful conclusion of the search. Joel W. Martin, provost of Franklin and Marshall College, has been appointed the next president of Wagner. His term begins in July 2019.

TOP 11%
Alumni Salaries Ranking

Wagner alumni salaries were ranked in the top 11 percent nationwide in the 2018 PayScale College Salary Report.

Theater Program in the Nation

Wagner College Theatre was ranked #5 among American collegiate theater programs in the Princeton Review’s 2019 college guidebook, The Best 384 Colleges.

6 of 8 Key Skills

Through the new Key Skills and Knowledge core curriculum, students will highlight the intellectual and practical skills that they gain at Wagner. Each student will learn and practice six of eight possible skills: intercultural understanding, creativity, critical reading and analysis, information literacy, quantitative thinking, technological competency, oral communication, and written communication.

THE WAGNER FUND

An Overview

Every year, Wagner offers students new opportunities in life. Every year, Wagner students need help to develop their full potential. Every year, Wagner asks for your help. These gifts make up the Wagner Fund.

Every year, every student benefits from the Wagner Fund.

DID YOU KNOW?

Tuition and fees cover 70 percent of the total cost to educate a student.

The Wagner Fund helps to fill that gap. Wagner sets tuition at the lowest cost possible. Gifts made to the Wagner Fund bridge the 30 percent gap between tuition and the total cost to educate a student.

GREATER PARTICIPATION = GREATER OPPORTUNITIES

More funds make more opportunities possible. In addition, the alumni giving rate affects Wagner’s rankings nationally, affecting the College’s reputation and ability to recruit students as well as the value of a Wagner degree.

Give to the Wagner Fund in 2018–19 if you haven’t already. Wagner’s fiscal year ends on August 31, 2019. Wagner students need your support!
Michelle Morris ’19 graduates in May 2019 with a bachelor’s in theater performance; she was the assistant choreographer for Wagner’s production of A Chorus Line.
EXPANDING OPPORTUNITIES
Stadium renovation benefits the entire College

Christian A. Hanna ‘13 transferred from Southern Illinois University to Wagner in 2011. “Wagner offered me the chance to continue playing Division I football at a comprehensive institution in the back yard of the greatest city in the world,” says the Shaker Heights, Ohio, native.

Even after an injury ended his football career, he stayed involved in athletics, becoming a student assistant for Dan Hurley, the prominent collegiate basketball coach who was then head coach of Wagner men’s basketball.

Hanna saw the benefits of athletics to himself as a student and to the College. “Athletics is crucial to the enrollment of Wagner College,” he says. “My personal experiences with Walt Hameline, Jason Houghtaling, Danny and Bobby Hurley helped mold me into the man I’ve become today, and I’m forever indebted to Wagner because of that.”

That’s why Hanna has decided to give significant financial support to Wagner’s stadium expansion project.

Wagner’s stadium — the home of football, women’s soccer, and men’s and women’s lacrosse — dates to 1997, and the team facilities within it are inadequate in size and condition. The expansion will create new locker rooms, training facilities, and equipment rooms. These additions will make space available in the Spiro Sports Center for all of the other athletic programs.

Hanna joined many other alumni who have given more than $1 million to this effort. Pending city approval, the stadium expansion groundbreaking could take place in 2019.

Hanna majored in business, and he says that business and athletics “intertwine with each other.” In both, students learn and practice the essential skills of strategic thinking, competitiveness, and collaboration.

“Athletics were instrumental in my development as a business professional and will be until the day I die,” he says. He earned an MBA at Manhattan College and has pursued a successful career in insurance and risk management in Cleveland, Ohio.

“Wagner is truly a wonderful place,” Hanna says. “It afforded me a lot of the opportunities I’ve been able to attain. I just want to make Wagner a better place. I hope that all my fellow alumni feel the same way. Let that be a call to action so that we, the Wagner community, ensure and sustain the success of this institution for another 100 years.”

One of the first things Jan and I want to do is celebrate the people of Wagner. We look forward to getting to know every single person here. We feel as if we have found our true home. ... We feel called to serve Wagner, where our talents and energies and experience seem so well aligned with the College’s contemporary needs and future aspirations.”

– PRESIDENT-ELECT JOEL W. MARTIN

New Academic Programs
Wagner will begin offering these new majors in fall 2019:

DANCE EDUCATION
Multidimensional studies in dance and pedagogy build on the strength of Wagner’s nationally ranked theater program.

ENVIRONMENTAL STUDIES
Students will gain a multidisciplinary understanding of how humans and the environment affect each other.

MUSIC: VOCAL PERFORMANCE
This specialized music major builds on Wagner’s performing arts prowess.

HEALTH SCIENCES
Pending approval by the New York State Department of Education, Wagner will launch a new major that supports student interest in many types of medical professions.

LOOKING AHEAD TO 2019–20

BECOME INVOLVED

Reunion Weekend Members of affinity groups and milestone anniversary classes help plan and organize Reunion festivities for their groups and promote attendance.

Career Connections Volunteer mentors serve as invaluable resources to Wagner students and recent graduates by providing personal perspectives on career options, career education, internships, job searches, and career advancement.

Admissions Ambassadors Represent Wagner at a college fair near you! Meet other active alumni volunteers, answer questions about Wagner, and speak with prospective Seahawks about why Wagner could be the ideal college for them.

Women’s Professional Network The WPN offers presentations and workshops that help prepare Wagner women to enter the workforce.

Social Media Ambassadors The future is always changing, and we too are changing the way we communicate with the Wagner family. Social media volunteers help us reach alumni and friends of the College who are online.

G.O.L.D. (Graduates of the Last Decade) Recent graduates assist in the planning and organizing of alumni events and programs specifically for the newest members of the Alumni Association.

Alumni Association Board The Alumni Association Board engages alumni to maintain their connection with Wagner College by demonstrating involvement, support, and commitment to assist the Office of Institutional Advancement and Alumni Relations Office.

Visit alumniconnect.wagner.edu/alumni-volunteer-form, email alumni@wagner.edu, or call 718-390-3224 to sign up or find out more information.
INVESTMENTS

Endowment and investments provide an institution with a solid footing of financial security.

---

NET ASSETS

Net assets, comparable to corporate equity or net worth, are the sum of an institution’s assets, minus its debts.

Wagner College is grateful for alumni and friends whose gifts helped the College grow during fiscal year 2017–18. In the following pages, we recognize our leadership donor groups: the Inner Circle, Century Leaders, Oval Society, Anchor Society, and Heritage Society, as well as employees who commit a portion of each paycheck back to the College. All of these gifts make possible the past, present, and future of this vibrant place of learning, marking 100 years “upon the hill.” Thank you!
A PERSONAL NOTE OF THANKS

It has been an exciting year at Wagner. We have chosen our next president, Dr. Joel Martin, who begins his tenure in July 2019. It has also been bittersweet, as we say goodbye to President Richard Guarasci after 17 transformative years leading the College.

During this momentous year, we are grateful for the continued support of our generous alumni and friends. We are pleased to report that we raised $9,977,197 through gifts, pledges, and estate intentions from 3,547 donors.

From Reunion to Homecoming, from athletic events to theatrical and musical performances, and all the activities throughout the year, our campus has been a thriving and exciting place. In addition, we have held wonderful alumni events throughout the country. We are very grateful for all the support we received from the thousands of alumni and friends listed on the following pages.

Thank you for your continued support of Wagner College. I have worked at Wagner for 25 years and, like you, I know it is a unique and special place. Please visit the College when you can in the upcoming year, and, of course, share your stories and memories with us. Together we will welcome Dr. Martin, build upon the success of Dr. Guarasci, and sustain and grow Wagner College. Go Seahawks.

ANGELO ARAIMO
SENIOR VICE PRESIDENT FOR PLANNING, ENROLLMENT AND ADVANCEMENT
We are deeply grateful to those who have shown extraordinary generosity and commitment to Wagner College throughout their lifetimes and in their estates. Individuals, foundations, corporations, and organizations whose outright gifts have reached the indicated levels are recognized below. (Pledges not included.)

Century Leaders

Century Leaders are graduates of the past 10 years who make an annual gift of at least $100 for every year since they graduated. Century Leaders join Wagner’s Inner Circle of donors in providing more than half of all the funds raised annually for the benefit of Wagner’s students, faculty, and campus. Century Leaders enjoy the benefits of Inner Circle members.

Anchor Society

We gratefully acknowledge those donors who financially support Wagner College every year. The individuals, organizations, and companies listed below have given to Wagner College annually for 20 or more years, 10–19 years, or 5–9 years consecutively.

HONOR ROLL OF DONORS
Theresa Reed ‘17 has barely started on her career and post-graduate life, yet she has already made a commitment to give back to Wagner.

A Staten Islander who graduated from Curtis High School, Reed received two scholarships to help pay for her Wagner education: the Presidential Scholarship for Academic Achievement and the Robert E. ‘58 and Cathrine Heller ‘60 Gritman Scholarship.

Bob and Cathy Gritman established this scholarship fund in 1998 to benefit students with academic promise, who have demonstrated leadership in school, church, or community activities.

The Gritmans return to Wagner regularly to meet with their scholarship students. They got to know Reed especially well, even attending her graduation party, and they have continued to keep in touch.

Out of gratitude for the Gritmans’ support and her Wagner opportunities, Reed has joined the Century Leaders. These graduates from the most recent 10 years make an annual gift of at least $100 for every year since they graduated. They join the Inner Circle of donors, gradually stepping up to that level of giving, set at $1,500 annually.

Reed has made her first annual gift to the Make a Difference Fund, which helps current students in need, in honor of the Gritmans.

“Wagner was my dream school and I had so many amazing experiences over my four years at Wagner, including amazing internships,” says Reed. “If it weren’t for the Gritman Scholarship and my academic scholarship, I wouldn’t have been able to come to Wagner.”

Reed fell in love with Wagner at an early age, when she visited the planetarium on an elementary school trip. To little Theresa, Main Hall looked just like Hogwart’s, the “school of witchcraft and wizardry” in Harry Potter and the Sorcerer’s Stone. She wanted to be part of the magic.

At Wagner, Reed discovered that she could pursue a career in the entertainment world. She majored in arts administration, and her focus area is television production. While she was a student, she did two internships in New York, with The Dr. Oz Show and CBS Primetime Casting, and another in Los Angeles, with The Bold and the Beautiful.

In addition, she took film classes at Wagner through the new film and media studies major. One of her documentaries received the top prize in the Wagner Film Festival. She also worked as an intern for the Wagner College Holocaust Center.

Reed appreciated the challenging and practical arts administration curriculum. “All my courses helped me, whether making me a stronger writer or working on my oral presentation skills,” she says.

Most recently, she served as a production assistant for ABC’s game show The $100,000 Pyramid.

“I knew how much the Gritman Scholarship meant to me, and I knew that I wanted to help others’ dreams of coming to Wagner come true, too,” Reed says.

Bob Gritman says that he’s happy about how the scholarship is giving students opportunities and inspiring them to be generous. “I’m glad to see that type of thing is occurring,” he says. “There are so many takers in our world today. It’s always good to see when people want to give back.”

Ever since 2012, the senior class gift has not been spent on tangible items for the campus, but added to the Senior Class Gift Scholarship Fund. The combined goal of all of the senior classes is to raise $100,000 to endow a scholarship in perpetuity.

“It’s a special fund that will help future students benefit from the same experiences, education, and opportunities that have allowed our current seniors to achieve success at Wagner,” says Kaitlin Girton ‘08, director of development. “The Senior Class Gift Scholarship Fund will allow our students to leave a legacy that will last for years to come.”

The class of 2018 raised $2,611.53 from 142 gifts for the Senior Class Gift Scholarship Fund, and current students are aiming to raise even more in honor of the graduating class of 2019. Fundraising efforts include fun campaigns like a Valentine’s Day Crush soda sale. The total raised for this scholarship since 2012 is $52,429.

Jessica Vincello ‘21 is already helping to raise money for the Senior Class Gift Scholarship Fund. An arts administration major from Baldwin, New York, she is a member of the Student Alumni Association leadership team, vice president of the marching band, and vice president of the Wagner Campus Activities Board.

“IT'S A COLLABORATIVE EFFORT OVER MANY YEARS OF GRADUATING CLASSES THAT WILL BENEFIT MANY GRADUATING CLASSES TO COME,” Vincello says of the Senior Class Gift Scholarship Fund. “IT BRINGS TOGETHER SO MUCH OF THE WAGNER COMMUNITY OVER SUCH A LONG PERIOD OF TIME — THAT MAKES IT AN EXCITING IDEA.”

Vincello also works for the Office of Alumni Relations — look for her at Reunion 2019! Like the Senior Class Gift Scholarship Fund, Reunion brings together alumni of all generations, especially at the Saturday night dinner dance, she says.
HONOR ROLL OF DONORS

Heritage Society

Members of the Heritage Society have expressed their deep and abiding love for Wagner College by remembering the College in their estate and/or financial plans. Deferred gifts, such as those represented below, help assure the College’s future growth and stability.

We are exceedingly grateful to our Heritage Society members. For more information about joining the Heritage Society or including Wagner in your estate plans, please contact David J. Martin, Esq., director of planned giving and college relations, at 718-420-4341.

| decessed, H honorary degree, M master's degree | Gifts made September 1, 2017 – August 31, 2018 | 26 Wagner College | 2018 Annual Report |
One afternoon in 1968, two Wagner mathematics alumni ran into each other at the Staten Island Savings Bank. One of them, Jane Tilson '57, was depositing her paycheck from RCA Records. A double major in music and math, she was an album cover editor. The other, Allan Brier '55, was withdrawing money he needed for a trip to Minnesota, where he had an interview for an engineering job. They knew each other already — they had both grown up in Staten Island, overlapping at Curtis High School as well as at Wagner College. But at that point, they didn’t know each other well.

If you’re wondering if this meeting would add up to anything (pun intended), the answer is, yes. After a chat, Jane asked Allan to get in touch when he returned and let her know how the interview went. Allan already had a good job with the New York Telephone Company, and the salary in Minnesota couldn’t compete. But he did follow up with Jane — and found his future.

On February 8, 2019, Jane and Allan Brier celebrated their 50th wedding anniversary with a dinner at the Chatham Bars Inn on Cape Cod. They had vacationed there for 25 years, and they loved it so much that they retired there in 2000.

As it turned out, Jane spent 40 years with RCA, later BMG; and Allan put in 30 years with New York Telephone, ending as a top operations person. His career also included three years of active duty with the U.S. Coast Guard and 21 years in the Coast Guard Reserve, where he attained the rank of captain. Together, the Briers enjoyed traveling throughout the United States and abroad, raising prize roses, attending concerts, and serving their community and church. A Wagner choir alumna, Jane continued to sing in church choirs in New Jersey and Massachusetts.

Not having children, and both being Wagner alumni, they also decided to “adopt” Wagner. Blessed with good jobs, stock options, and employers like Verizon that match charitable gifts made by employees and retirees, they have given to Wagner annually throughout their marriage. (New York Telephone morphed into Verizon over the years.)

“It just got to be habit if you will,” says Allan. “It was money well deserved as a thank you for the education we got, and we recognized that the College needed the money.”

They put extra effort into supporting projects of special meaning to them, such as the Margery Mayer and Sigvart J. Steen Scholarship for Excellence in Music. Legendary choir director Sigvart Steen and vocal coach Margery Steen played a key role in Jane’s life. They also made a significant gift to name a faculty office in the future new academic building, the Center for Global Learning.

As Heritage Society members, the Briers have also included Wagner in their estate plans. “The education that we got was instrumental in giving us the lifestyle we have enjoyed during our careers and in our retirement,” says Allan. Their gifts are now adding up to a better future for Wagner College.

Gifts made September 1, 2017 – August 31, 2018
Every effort has been made to present an accurate list of contributors to Wagner College from September 1, 2017, to August 31, 2018. We apologize for any errors. To report inaccuracies, please email annual.fund@wagner.edu or call 888-231-2252.
THERE’S STILL room to grow

In 2018–19, the Wagner Fund asks you to consider the big picture as we focus on unrestricted gifts to the College. Thanks to your generous response, we have reached 70 percent of our $700,000 goal!

Many factors make up this incredible learning environment we call Wagner College, from the campus to the faculty to the students. Unrestricted gifts are especially needed to achieve the big picture: a mind-opening Wagner education.

If you haven’t yet made an unrestricted gift to the College in fiscal year 2018–19, please consider making one today.
