COURSE DESCRIPTIONS FOR FALL 2022:
ENGLISH AND JOURNALISM

PLEASE NOTE: The day/time/instructor information listed in this brochure was accurate at the time of printing, but please double-check course information on MyWagner.

ENGLISH COURSES

See course listings below for individual times and descriptions. Note that students declaring the English major or minor are governed by the requirements of the English major and may not count EN 101 or EN 110 (if they have taken either of these courses in the past) toward the major or minor.

FOUNDATION COURSES--OPEN TO EVERYONE, NO PREREQUISITES

All three foundation courses (EN 109 or 111, 211, and 212) are open to non-majors. Majors should take these courses by the end of sophomore year. Students who have taken EN 109 in the FYP cannot take EN 111.

EN 111 World Literature
R/UU/WW

Multiple Professors
For Time, See Below

An introductory course covering fiction from English-speaking countries other than the U.S. and Great Britain such as Canada, India, and South Africa and writing in translation from Africa, Asia, Europe, and Latin America. The course will focus on a specific theme. The course is part of the foundation of the English major and should be taken by the end of the sophomore year. Students who have taken EN109 cannot take EN111.

Prof. Terzuoli
TTh 4:20—5:50

EN 212 Introduction to Literary Analysis and Theory
L/RR/WW

Multiple Professors
For Time, See Below

We will explore various approaches to literature and culture. As you develop your skills as sensitive readers and analysts you will see how fruitful an array of interpretations can be. Some of the areas we will study include Marxism, Psychoanalysis, Feminism, Ecocriticism, and Gender/Queer critical theory.
CORE COURSES-- OPEN TO EVERYONE, NO PREREQUISITES

English majors, please note: any additional core courses not used to fulfill the pre-1800, post-1800, and American literature requirements may count as electives toward the major.

PRE-1800 COURSE (open to everyone—no prerequisites)

EN 205 Crime and Violence in 18th-Century Literature
Dr. Thomas
MW 2:30—4:10

In this course we will focus on the popularity of crime, confession, and violence in 18th century English literature. We will encounter prostitution, theft, bigamy, slavery, and piracy in our readings of texts such as John Gay’s Beggar’s Opera and the memoirs of the African Olaudah Equiano as well as the accounts of pirates. There will be critical reading as well to assist us in our exploration of social deviation and the recreation of the hero as outlaw.

POST-1800 COURSE

None this semester. Look for spring 2023.

AMERICAN LITERATURE COURSES (open to everyone—no prerequisites)

EN 226 American Cultures and Literatures
RR/UU/WC
Dr. Arant
TTh 11:20—12:50

What is American culture and what is the role of literature in society? In this course, students will analyze how different forms of American literary and popular culture express the diversity of American society. The course may address how literature and popular culture respond to various issues in American life such as social identity, political movements, the environment, and technology.

COURSE REQUIRED OF MAJORS (and open to all)

EN 330 Shakespeare Survey
RR/WW
Dr. Barth
TTH 2:40—4:10

This course will introduce you to the range of Shakespeare’s works. In addition to the variety of plays—history, comedy, tragedy and (possibly) romance—to be encountered, we will also be reading a selected number of the sonnets and one long narrative poem. The emphasis of the course will be on engagement with the text, and particularly on developing sensitivity to the features of Elizabethan/Jacobean drama and to the particular delights of Shakespeare’s language, but we will also be attending to performance as in itself a mode of interpretation. Thus we hope to attend at least one play to be staged in Manhattan this fall, and we will also be giving attention to some aspects of performance through film.

ELECTIVES--OPEN TO EVERYONE, NO PREREQUISITES
(any exceptions are noted at the end of the individual course description)

EN 203 Spiritual Quest in Literature (Honors)
Dr. Kaelber
C/RR/U
T 6-9pm

An examination of some major pieces of fiction concerned with heroes on a search for meaning and purpose in their lives? Their search often leads them far from traditional religious beliefs.

EN 215 Introduction to Creative Writing
Prof. Ste Marie
CC/R/WC
MW 9:40—11:10

This course is devoted to engaging with the art and craft of creative writing. You will examine a wide range of forms, including poetry, prose-poetry, flash fiction, short stories, and the novel, using these texts to explore the fundamentals of composition, the essentials of style, and the meaning of ‘voice’. You will put these concepts into practice with your own creative writing, crafting and revising short stories and poems. During workshop sessions you will give and receive critical feedback, helping one another toward the goal of becoming better writers.

EN 331 Topics in World Cultures and Cinemas (Honors)
Prof. Thomas
R/UU/WW
TTh 2:40—4:10

This course explores noteworthy contemporary films from Asia, Africa, Eastern Europe, and/or the Middle East. The movies screened will vary widely in style and approach, from commercial blockbusters to experimental art-house films. We’ll combine aesthetic analysis and interpretation with an investigation into the historical and cultural contexts of each film, and we’ll look at how filmmakers across nations and cultures have addressed topics such as gender relations, war, and globalization.

FM 322 Screenwriting 1
Prof. Van Buren
CC/WW/A
TTh 9:40—11:10

According to filmmaker Stanley Kubrick, “if it can be written, or thought, it can be filmed.” In this course students will learn the foundational elements of a successful screenplay: character development, narrative structure, and of course, proper formatting. Students will write their own original short screenplays and workshop the writing of their classmates, and will read professional screenplays in order to learn different dramatic strategies and styles. By semester’s end, students should feel confident in following the words of director/writer Stanley Kubrick as noted above—and begin to understand the unique challenges and infinite possibilities in writing for the screen.
JOURNALISM COURSES (no prerequisites)

JR011 Intern Program on the Student Newspaper Staff
Prof. Regan
TBA

Intensive participation on the student newspaper staff in the areas of reporting, photography, editing and design. Students contribute in any one of those four categories to each issue of the Wagnerian, published six times a semester. The weekly staff meeting and brainstorming session takes the place of a class meeting. Prerequisite: Completion of the English composition requirement. Offered every semester. May be repeated. (Half-Unit)

JR321 Dying to Tell the Story
M 6:00—9:00 p.m.

Every day journalists risk their lives to tell a story to the world. Many of them are killed in the line of duty; the Freedom Forum Journalists Memorial in Washington, D.C. lists more than 2,000 names from around the world. Many others are permanently injured physically and psychologically by what they witness and record. Some even take their own lives. This course surveys works by the valiant reporters, past and present, who put themselves in harm’s way to shed light on unrest, tragedy, and injustice.

JR370 Sports Journalism
Prof. Terzuoli
(WC)(C)(T)
TTh 1:00—2:30

An introduction to the craft and business of sports writing, with emphasis on conceiving, researching, drafting, and revising marketable sports stories. Students learn to prepare feature columns, profiles, interviews, and editorials for both newspapers and magazines. Readings in the New York Times, Sport Illustrated, and other publications, as well as in collections of contemporary sports writers. The course will also emphasize writing with new internet and social-media technologies such as podcasting. Assignments include news coverage of Wagner College sports as well as professional teams and events.

JR372 Journalism and Public Relations
Prof. Regan
C/O/WW
W 6:00—9:00 p.m.

This course offers an exploration of the symbiotic relationship between two dynamic industries centered in New York City. Students will explore how journalists rely on PR professionals for story ideas and information, and how PR professionals rely on news organizations to bring credibility and success to their concepts. They will generate concepts, prepare press releases and press kits, plan press conferences and become proficient in handling “rewrites.” Crisis management using real PR case studies will be a centerpiece of the course.
JR 397(1 unit) & 497 (2 units)
Internship in Journalism

Journalism internships are part-time on-the-job experience at a New York area newspaper, magazine, television network, or public relations outlet. May be taken for one or two units. Prerequisites: JR 261, minimum 2.5 GPA in your major, and approval of the advisor to the Journalism minor.

SUMMER COURSES

Summer Session A (May 31—June 27)

EN 215 Introduction to Creative Writing
Prof. Terzuoli
CC/R/WC
MTW 9:00—12:00

This course is devoted to engaging with the art and craft of creative writing. You will examine a wide range of forms, including poetry, prose-poetry, flash fiction, short stories, and the novel, using these texts to explore the fundamentals of composition, the essentials of style, and the meaning of ‘voice’. You will put these concepts into practice with your own creative writing, crafting and revising short stories and poems. During workshop sessions you will give and receive critical feedback, helping one another toward the goal of becoming better writers.

FM 201 Introduction to Film Studies
Prof. Van Buren
C/RR/WC/A
Online

This is a course in the fundamentals of film analysis and criticism in which students will learn the concepts and terminology for appreciating aesthetic form and cinema history. On a practical level, the class will cover film and video of all kinds including international trends and movements. Students will also learn how to identify and disarm covert the political and social assumptions in which films immerse audiences.

Summer Session B (July 5—August 1)

EN 111 World Literature
Dr. Thomas
R/UU/WW
TWTh 1:00—4:00

An introductory course covering fiction from English-speaking countries other than the U.S. and Great Britain such as Canada, India, and South Africa and writing in translation from Africa, Asia, Europe, and Latin America. The course will focus on a specific theme. The course is part of the foundation of the English major and should be taken by the end of the sophomore year. Students who have taken EN109 cannot take EN111.

TBA 593 Independent Study Independent Study (open to junior or senior majors with an overall GPA of 3.0 or higher)

A maximum of two courses (prior to Fall 2015, only one course) from either of the following two categories may be counted as electives:

1) Film courses designated as “F” or “FM” (EN 230, 331, 356, 357, and 291 or 593, when they focus primarily on film).

2) Courses devoted primarily to writing rather than literature (EN 215, 280, 316, Journalism [JR] courses, and EN 291 or 593, when they focus primarily on writing).

Only courses with a grade of C- or higher may be applied to the requirements of the major in English. Although the study of a foreign language is not required, students majoring in English are strongly urged to undertake such a study.

OUTLINE OF THE ENGLISH REQUIREMENTS FOR THE DUAL PROGRAM WITH EDUCATION++

The English component of the Dual Major (with Childhood Education--please check with the Education Department for the Education course requirements) consists of a total of 11 units with the following distribution:

Foundation courses—3 units

English 111, 211, 212.

Core British and American Courses—3 units (one from each of the following categories)

Pre-1800 British or European literature course (see list above in the English major)
Post-1800 British Literature course (see list above in the English major)
American Literature Course (see list above in the English major)

Elective upper-level course—4 units

See list above in the English major.

As with the regular English major, additional core courses beyond the required three may be counted as electives. The same restriction about Film and Writing courses as electives applies as the one listed after the regular major.

Required Course--1 unit
EN 330 Shakespeare Survey

Please note: One of the core or elective courses must be an intercultural course (designated by “UU”).
++Course numbers in bold print indicate that that English course is offered in the Spring of 2019.

REQUIREMENTS OF THE WRITING MINOR—(6 units)

Creative Writing (1 unit)

One course in Creative Writing: Choose from EN 215, EN 316 or TH290 or FM 322

Journalism (1 unit)

One Full-Unit Course in Journalism (see Journalism below) or SP 235

Literature (2 units)

Two Writing-Intensive Courses in Literature at the 200-level or above

Elective (1 unit)

One elective from any of the three groups above

Internship or an Elective (1 unit)

REQUIREMENTS OF THE JOURNALISM MINOR—(6 units)

Required:

S23 JR 261 Reporting in the New Age of Journalism (1 unit)

Internship in Journalism (JR397 one unit/JR497 two units) (2 units)

Please note that a student may take two one-unit internships or one two-unit internship.

And

011 Intern Program in Writing for the Wagnerian--the Student Newspaper (offered as .5 unit)—Must take this twice for a total of one unit (1 unit)

Electives, choose from the following JR courses (2 units)
OUTLINE OF THE MINOR IN COMPARATIVE LITERATURE

The minor consists of 5 courses distributed as follows:

1 core course:
EN 229 (W) Introduction to Comparative Literature or EN 212 (W) Introduction to Literary Analysis and Theory

2 courses from 2 of the following areas:
300-level English courses (see list above in the English Major)
200-300-level French, Spanish, or Italian courses

At least one course must be conducted in French, Spanish or Italian.

DEPARTMENTAL HONORS IN ENGLISH

Initial eligibility for departmental honors in English: Students who have earned a GPA of 3.5 in the major and an overall GPA of 3.0 at the end of their junior year are eligible to pursue departmental honors by writing an honors thesis and passing a defense of that thesis in their senior year.

Those who wish to do so may wish to register for an independent study (EN 593) to be directed by a faculty mentor during the fall of their senior year. Though a student may elect to pursue departmental honors without taking an Independent Study s/he should know that blocking out sufficient time to focus on the project is easier if there is an Independent Study obligation.

It is essential that any student planning to pursue honors talk with a mentor during spring of junior year in order to begin work on the project during the summer prior to senior year. The same thesis may be counted toward the Wagner Honors Program and departmental honors in English.

It is important that you understand that you should undertake this project only if you have a keen desire to do the work involved. If you miss a deadline (in spring of junior year or after), you will not be allowed to proceed to the defense, though you should complete your work in time to receive a grade for the Independent Study if you have registered for one (it would usually be the completion of an incomplete from fall of senior year).
Please note that the departmental honors thesis does not satisfy the writing requirements of the SLC. The two courses in the SLC require substantial writing and analysis. The departmental honors thesis is the experiential component of the SLC for those students who are eligible to pursue it and complete the undertaking.

Also note that if you pursue departmental honors and take an independent study as part of that work, the paper alone is not sufficient to earn departmental honors. After meeting all earlier deadlines in the process, you must successfully submit (with your mentor’s approval) the final polished version to readers, pass an oral defense of the paper and submit a clean, edited copy to the chair to earn departmental honors.

Outline of Procedure for Departmental Honors:

In order to earn departmental honors you must do all of the following:

1) spring of Junior year by the last day of classes: identify an area of interest that will be the focus of your departmental honors thesis and fill out a form identifying your topic and mentor (if you are writing a thesis for the honors program that focuses on an appropriate area, you may count this project as your English thesis). Give this form to the Chair of English.

2) spring of Junior Year: register for an Independent Study for the fall of 2019 if that is part of your plan (see note above)

3) summer between Junior and Senior Years: do all research and background reading over the summer

4) fall of Senior year: a working annotated bibliography is due to your mentor and the Department Chair (on paper--no e-mail) by the end of the day (4pm) on the last day of the drop/add period

5) fall of Senior Year: prepare a prospectus of at least 5 pages. Due by the third Monday in October. The prospectus must include a working Bibliography of critical works and must be submitted both to your mentor and the rest of the English Department (via e-mail). See your mentor for the guidelines for the prospectus.

6) fall of Senior Year: Meet with others working toward Departmental Honors in November. Workshop session (the chair will find a time/place for you to gather)

7) spring of Senior Year: Meet with others pursuing Departmental Honors in January. Workshop session (the chair will find a time/place for you to gather). You must have at least 20 pages written by this time.

8) spring Senior year: request readers by the end of February (email the chair; do not ask individual faculty members).
9) spring of Senior Year: complete the final, polished version of your thesis by the week prior to Spring Break and submit paper copies to your mentor and the two readers

10) During late March or early April in spring of Senior Year: successfully defend the thesis in a meeting with your faculty mentor and two other readers from the department (full-time English faculty members)

11) Submit a clean paper copy of the thesis to the Department Chair by the end of April.

About the Senior LC (EN 400 and EN 425)

Senior Thesis (not the same as departmental honors thesis)

Everyone in EN 400 and EN 425 will write a capstone paper as part of the SLC. Those who write a departmental honors thesis must do all the writing required in the SLC.

If you are pursuing Departmental Honors in English

If you are an English major and are pursuing departmental honors, you are not required to do the one hundred hour experience since your thesis work is your experience. If you wish to do the experience, however, you may. You must take both EN 400 and EN 425.

Experiential Component/Internship

If you want to take an internship for credit apart from EN 400, you cannot count that as hours toward the EN 400 requirement. You would have to do 100 hours beyond the ones for which you are earning credit at that site, or do a separate 100-hour experience. CACE (Tara Chiari) can assist you in finding an interesting site for your experience. You should visit CACE at the end of junior year to be sure that your resume is in order so you can start looking for a placement over the summer between junior and senior year, or, at the latest in early senior year. If you are in doubt about whether an experience is appropriate, please ask the Chair. Many different sorts of sites offer very good possibilities.

Dual Major with Education (early childhood)

If you are a dual major with education, you do not do the SLC in English. Your student teaching/education involvement is your senior capstone. Please be sure you have completed your English course requirements before you student teach in spring of senior year. If you student teach in fall, do not plan to take any English courses that semester.

Double Major with any other field

If you are a double major and English is your first major, you must take the SLC in English. If English is your second major, you may take the English SLC, but are not required to since you will have taken the SLC in your primary major. If you do not take the English SLC, you must take two other English courses (choose from those that would count as electives, remembering the restrictions that limit film/writing courses to two for the major).

Typical Progress toward the English major

Possible Path One

A student declares the major in spring of her or his first year, but intended to be a major early enough in fall term in order to begin taking courses in spring, so:

_Spring--Year one_
- 2 English foundation courses
- 3 general education courses

_Fall--Year Two_
- 1 English foundation course
- 1 core course in English
- 2 or 3 general education courses

_Spring--Year Two_
- 2 core courses in English
- 2 or 3 general education courses

_Fall--Year Three_
- EN 330 Shakespeare Survey
- 3 or 4 general education courses or courses toward a minor

_Spring--Year Three_
- 1 or 2 English electives
- 2 or 3 general education courses or courses toward a minor

_Fall--Year Four_
- 1 or 2 English electives
- general education courses or courses toward a minor

_Spring--Year Four_
- EN 400 and 425
- general education courses or courses toward a minor

Possible Path Two

_Another possibility is that a student declares the major in Spring of the first year and begins the major in fall of the second year:*

_Fall--Year Two_
• 2 English foundation courses
• 2 or 3 general education courses

Spring—Year Two
• 1 English foundation course
• 1 English core course
• 2 or 3 general education courses

Fall—Year Three
• EN 330—Shakespeare Survey
• 1 English core course
• 2 or 3 general education or minor courses

Spring—Year Three
• 1 English core course
• 1 English elective
• 2 or 3 general education or minor courses

Fall—Year Four
• 2 English electives
• 3 general education or minor courses

Spring—Year Four
• EN 400 and EN 425
• 2 general education or minor courses

If a student begins the major after the fall of sophomore year, that student may have a couple of semesters when s/he takes three English courses. Our advice is that those semesters not be the ones when the student takes EN 330 or the Senior Learning Community (EN 400 and EN 425)
