Sundog Theatre presents 'Scenes from the Staten Island Ferry 2019'

Sundog Theatre's 17th annual presentation of new, original, one-act plays are all about our favorite boats: the Staten Island ferries.

Produced by Susan Fenley, productions are presented at New Dorp Moravian Church Theatre, today at 8 p.m.; Sunday at 2 p.m.; and next weekend.

Tickets are $20 for adults, $18 seniors/students with ID, and $15 for groups of 10 or more at one show. For tickets, visit SundogTheatre.org.

For more information, call 718-816-5453.

'Super Science: Commonplace Chemistry'

Discover chemistry at work through hands-on experiments. Participants will learn the science behind silly putty, acid-base indicators and gas expansion explosions. Super Science participants must pay the full suggested admission. Accompanying adults enter free. Registration is recommended.

The event takes place at the Staten Island Museum today from 11 a.m. to 1 p.m. for 6 to 12 year olds. Kids must be accompanied by an adult.

The event is free with museum admission.

Take in the view: Fields, bluffs and bay

Few locations in New York City can compete with the wintry beauty of the Mission of the Immaculate Virgin, Mount Loretto, Pleasant Plains.

Today from noon to 2 p.m., participants will walk the trails throughout the property, exploring the meadow, wetlands systems and shoreline with naturalist Ray Matarazzo.

Participants will meet in the Hylan Boulevard parking lot, across from the CYO Community Center, 6541 Hylan Blvd. For more information, contact Matarazzo at 718-317-7666.

'My One and Only'

Immerse yourself in the glamour that is the 1920s and watch it roar back to life when a transatlantic aviator falls for a bathing beauty. Their romantic pursuit is sidetracked by a series of zany escapades, but together they navigate their way to happiness.

Winner of three Tonys, this tap dance spectacular with an incomparable Gershwin score promises to have you floating on air.

"My One and Only" is directed by Ann Nieman and choreographed by John Scacchetti with musical direction by David Sisco.

Performances are today at 2 and 8 p.m. Performances take place at Wagner College, Grymes Hill. Performances will also happen next weekend.

Tickets for "My One and Only" can be purchased by calling 718-390-3259 Monday to Friday, from noon to 4 p.m. They are also available at the box office window during all performances.

Online ticketing is available at all other times.

'The Key & Sail Away'

"The Key & Sail Away," written by Victoria Venezia and directed by Christine Zahra, is set for today, at 2 and 8 p.m.

The comedy, mystery, love and drama production will also run on Sunday at 2 p.m.

General admission tickets are $25; seniors/students/veterans get in for $22.
